Upper Delaware River Tailwaters Recreation Plan

Development of a Recreational Plan for the Upper Delaware River Tailwaters region, including the Towns of Colchester, Deposit and Hancock in Delaware County, New York, together with the Townships of Buckingham and Manchester in Wayne County, Pennsylvania.

This plan will, with a view toward tourism development, address river access in a manner that is sensitive to native wildlife habitat, water quality implications and flooding issues.

The plan will showcase unique recreational opportunities available in the study area that strike the balance between recreation and environmental values.

Completion Date - January 31, 2022
